

Hello Aristhide Nobanza.

I have looked over your project, and I am incredibly impressed. You clearly put great thought into these changes, making sure everyone had a fair chance at getting prayer slots. Your changes show technical skills on another level. I wouldn't even know how to begin with implementing these changes.

One thing I may recommend, but this is in no way a requirement, is to implement some sort of block-out system if a person is caught trying to do something like book multiple slots as a sort of deterrent for those who do so. This may scare people away from trying to find loopholes in the system, but other than that, I give this a 10/10.
